

Biography

Marshall Pahl is the Chief Juvenile Defender and Deputy Defender General at the Vermont Office of the Defender General. Marshall represents children and adolescents in criminal and juvenile court and on appeal at the Vermont Supreme Court. He attended Vermont Law School.

Rebecca Turner is the supervising attorney of the Appellate Division of the Vermont Office of the Defender General. She represents children and adults before the Vermont Supreme Court. She attended the University of New Mexico School of law.